Lab Equipment & Supplies

The range and type of laboratory equipment, reagents and consumables that may be required in any laboratory operation is extensive. The e-catalog list is illustrative of the commodities SCMS has supplied to date. Once a request is received, we prepare a specific proposal for your requirements. Where we have listed generic types of equipment rather than specific models as needs vary widely with use. When arranging supply we will take into account local service capability, training and other issues. We are also able to provide electronic catalogs from major laboratory suppliers. Please contact your local SCMS office to discuss your exact requirements. You may also contact us at our Washington-based project management office. Our prices are EXW or FOB and do not include freight costs from SCMS Regional Distribution Center or the supplier.

SCMS Experience: Good Procurement Practices

Product Standardization:

Many products are available in numerous varieties from a multitude manufacturers

Forecast / Supply Plan (Quantification):

How many units of the product are needed over a specified period of time (e.g. quarter, 12 months, 3 years, etc.)

Product Specification:

Detailed specifications allow us to procure quickly and cost effectively that will satisfy the end user

SCMS Experience: Lessons Learned

Standardization is a key first step in optimizing and strengthening supply chains

Standardization should be followed by forecasting / supply planning (Quantification)

Product specifications should be determined before the procurement process begins

SCMS

Moving Forward

We have the capacity and experience

We are developing an MC commodity list that includes kits as well as individual components

We will provide technical assistance in product selection (standardization and specification) as well as supply planning (quantification)
